THE CIRCUS

WENT UP TO THE TENT TO WATCH THE LABOR FAKIR'S TRICKS.

and There I Saw the Kangarbes, the Johnnys, Pats and Micks-and Many Funny Fakirs Cut Up Some Funny Sticks-Now, What D'ye Think of

I went into the Circus tent To use the Sunday show, and there beheld the fakirs Sitting in a row.

Irishmen and Johnny Bulls And Yankee Doodles, too, and here and there among the banch I found a Kangaroo. Now what d'ye think of that?

First there came the Ringmaster, His whip was cracking loud, A way he has of trying To keep order in the crowd.

And then the blg "Fat Angel" Flapped his wings and raised his hull, And read the Section minutes In the temporary full.

And then jumped up a foundryman, From Newark town he came; His foot far from his native beath, McArdle was his pame.

And he told how foundry belpers In that city were on strike, How many a brawny laborer Would be made to hit the pike.

If the noble "union" molders Didn't stop their present game Of working with "scab" helpers some shope that he could name and then the wee Inspector volumerald, took his cue, His dictionary book took out And started in to chew.

He deprecated strongly Molders' inconsistent act; That the helpers needed helping He was conscious of the fact.

And he hoped the worthy brothers Would appreciation show
Of the strikers' plucky fighting
And assist them with the "dough."
Now, what d'ye think of that?

And thus opened Sunday's performan of the Central Vederated Union Circus with in incident that served to bring another in Setment against the kind of "solidarity" practised by pure and simple unions. The nolders have what they want and are not mring what happens to the helpers, just as the good "union" men on the rapid transit tunnel care but little what becomes of the striking Italian excavators.

McArdle moved that Sammy Gom pers be requested to write to the Ironmold-ter' Actional body and ask them not to work with scale. This brought on a dis-cussion in which Gould of the Hebrew Actors' declared that the Newark strikers many of whom are Hungarians, had been tarning but $7 or $8 a week. This knight nade three motions at one and the same Hard of the Wagenworkers. Barr of the Sheetmetal Workers tried to set them all and Barry of the Actors' took a turn in the sketch in the character of a Fat Flianthropist," and described the miserable conditions under which some of the strikers were living, incidentally announcing that the actors and assisted them by giving efit at Newark. Pullas of the Pat ernmakers, who claimed his organization was not injuring the helpers, Fitzgerald and others did more stunts before the sketch was finished which it did with the passing an McArdie's motion to notify Gompers, and another motion to donate $100 to the strike. The only time the "juicy" Rapid Transit Committee was beard from during the whole unced that the Rockdrillers and the preshorers were the only organizations t had so far notified him of changes in their wage schedules to go into effect on fone 4, and said that further than the de aire that other bodies represented on tunnel work notify them similarly they had no report to make. Not a word was said about the Italian strikers for whose special "bene-fit" the committee had been enlarged two weeks ago, and nobody seemed to have the their silence on the matter because they naturally are the ones who would b pocted to ask some question in that di-tion, scoing that they on previous con-es expressed some sympathy for the

the employes of the Schoen Manufacturing Company in that city had their grievances "arbitrated," went back to work to find the agreement under which they returned brok en three times in one day. They thereupon struck again, with the result that the company has gotten out an injunction against them and is suing the union and its leaders for $10,000 damages.

Behm started to read again, but was compelled to stop until the racket created by a crossive going on between Quinlan of the Pipecaulkers, Hanna of the White Stonevorkers and others. Some one shouted that Quinlan was making a noise just to get his name in the papers, a remark which con-

when Bohm got a chance to proceed the communication he read was a peach. It came from a bunch of freaks calling themselves "The Church Association for the Advancement of the Interests of Labor," abbre visted C. A. A. I. I., which stands for "Comical Aggregation of Azinine Idiotic Lickspittles." On the letterhead was a list of the "main guys" of the bunch which contained names of six "Reverends," three "Right reverends," one Professor and a number of "charitable" ladies of the kind who find the trials of the working class a good field for the working of of surplus mergy. The circular calls for the coopera tion of labor bodies in promoting "har monlous relations" between those dear brothers, capitalist and laborer. It states that "we believe expitalists entitled to a 'fair interest' on their investments and emthink of that?

One Lewis of Buffalo who is a nations officer of the Team Drivers did a special turn by permission of the regulars. His stunt related to the troubles of the Hackmen and gave rise to quite an extended argument taken part in by Flyan of the Hackmen, Bohm, Organizer Robinson, McGowan, Ringmaster Holland, Henry Hand, and others. From it all it appeared that of the two unions of Hackmen, the one containing all wageworkers is not in the Pakiration, while the one containing many small owners of rigs is. Reichenbacher put a stop to the whole thing by making a point of order that there was nothing before the house.

Inside Ironworkers announced that they are still fighting the Iron League which intended to open its shops on Monday in hope of stampeding the men. The Metal Polishers and Buffers are parts of the same fight. "Whang the Miller" was the title of the next act which was started by the delegates of the striking flourmill men, who declared that the mills are tied up but feared that setion of the Firemen in voting to return to work would help the bosses in their proposed attempt to run the mills with the few new men they might be able to obtain. Holland and Carrol of the Firemen, McGin nls of the "far down" voice and McConville of the Engineers, each took a hand in this sketch. Holland told why the Firemen had voted to go back, and roasted the millers for net trying to organize what are known ns the second millers, who according to Hol land are now doing the work of the strikers in some plants. One miller admitted tha had shown "too much consideration for the bosses" by striking in a slack sensor so as "not to tie up the plants when they were rushed." The end of the squabble was the appointment of a committee to confer with the bosses and the granting of the re quest that the Firemen be asked not to re

Presently a loud report was heard and it was believed that it was the cause of the rush of fire engine through the neighborhood s few minutes later. The noise, however was nothing more than an explosion of chunk of Kangaroo Wolf's queer dialect.

Then came a great explosion; I looked to see the flame, And saw a funny kangaroo-Genosee Wolff his name. It was a chunk of dialect That made the awful roar. It husted when he snat it out Upon the Circus floor. Now, vos is los mit dot?

Wolff wanted to know what Lord had done about the accusations made by Keyes, over whom so much fuss was made early last winter, when he made a holler about grafters and graft. Lord replied that it was a personal affair, but if any one was particularly interested in get his opinion he would make no bones of giving it.

Lord gave a crack at Wolff by declaring that he never knew a man yet who thumped himself on the chest who didn't need a copper to watch him. He declared they were all out for the stuff and would take a chance on being thrown through the window right then by saying that if an X-ray machine were turn on the whole body right now there would be no one left to press the button. "There you are!" he declared. back now, if you want to!"

This was getting too strenuous, so Richards of the Woodcarvers made the peal from the Ladies' Germent point that the whole discussion was out of Racise, Wisconsin, was a strong of order, and, of course, Ringmaster Holland of the class struggle and the land ruled the point well taken.

BALTIMORE DOINGS

WORKINGMEN PRACTICALLY DIS-FRANCHISED BY PROPERTY QUALIFICATIONS.

Only Middle-Class Men and Capitalists Eligible to Election for Mayor-May-Day Celebration-Speeches by Berry Unrefuted by "Socialists" Present-State Convention Next.

Baltimore, May 24.—International Labor Day was celebrated by Section Baltimore and the German Singing Section at the Labor Lyceum, on Monday, May 4. The German Singing Section put on a very suitable programme, which was well acceived by the audience, which numbered about 500.

The chairman then explained the aims and objects of the Socialist Labor Party and made an earnest appeal to the audience to support our Daily, Weekly and Monthly People. He then introduced Michael T. Berry, of Haverhill, Mass., as the speaker for the evening. Berry was well received, and he waded into the Republican party and showed up their fake issues and how they deceived the working class. Then he took up the Democratic party, and proved beyond a doubt that it was a reactionary party of the worst stripe.

As there was quite a number of the Socialist party present, he turned his attention to it for a while and made some telling points, with the hope that at the close of his lecture they would ask questions; but, oh, no! The Kangs are not built that way. They would sooner go around, like a snake in the grass, and strike when our backs are turned.

When Berry finished his lecture the chairman arose again and asked if there were any persons desiring to ask any as we would be only too questions, pleased to answer them; but there was not one.

The young people then assembled in the ball room and danced until the early hours of the morn.

The comrades and readers of The Daily and Weekly People will recollect our account of the election which was to take place in this city. McLane, the Democratic machine candidate, was elected by a majority of 500 votes, with five precincts missing. Wachter, the Republican faction candidate, who was knifed by the organization, will contest, and the ourts must decide who is elected.

W. Gisciel, prohibition candidate, received 854 votes. F. Mareck, Socialist. alias Social Democratic, candidate, received 682 votes.

Now I will take the readers back to the election of November 5, 1901. On that occasion Jacobson, "Socialist" party candidate, polled 742 votes; so you will see by this account, which I have taken from the Sun Almanae, that they have lost instead of gained.

The part Section Baltimore took in this election was as follows: We distributed 8000 leaflets, 6000 "S. L. P. vs. S. D. P., 1000 "Uncle Sam on Taxation," 500 "Socialism," 500 "Why American Workingen Should Be Socialists."

We found it an impossibility, with so few comrades as our section contains. to comply with the election law, which is as follows: To be a Mayoralty candidate you must have $2500 worth of property; a Councilman candidate, $500; and then you must procure 300 signatures of bona fide voters and bring them before a justice of the peace and swear each and every one of them is legal, and, as this law reads, we must pay him 25 cents for every signature thus collected and sworn to.

Now, workingmen, these are the parties you have been electing year in and year out, and you must see by this time that they are rotten and corrupt and at all times against your interests.

There is only one party which repre ents the interests of the working class that is the Socialist Labor Party, which stands for the overthrow of private ownership of the land and machinery of production and the substitution of the o-operative commonwealth.

Workingmen, do not be deceived any oncer, but rally to the standard of the S. L. P.

Section Baltimore requests the readers of The Weekly People to attend our meeting Sunday, May 31, at 10 a. m., room 1, Labor Lyceum, 1011 East Baltimore street, to assist us in putting a State ticket in the field,

IN THE WEST. Some Tricks of the Exploiters at Cosmopolis, Wash. Aberdeen, Wash., May 22 .- A writer in the "Gant's Sawyer," a paper published at Hoquiam. Washington, gives a discription of labor conditions in the town of Cosmopolis, in that state, which shows up the tricks of the labor skinners of that locality as follows: "There is not, in all the land, a big concern more unfair to labor than the Grays Harbor Commercial Company at osmopolis, of which C. E. White is the igure immortal, the godhead and the stay. Personally, I could say nothing against Mr. White, but as an employer of labor, he seems to me to be a leach sucking the blood from the veins of men who toil. A man of family in Cosmo polis must either board at the messhouse, the damnable hole in all the city, or receive ten dollars per month more and board himself and family. Out of the 600 men employed at Cosmopolis, there is not 300 of them receiving above one dollar per day and many of them are receiving much less.

"The Grays Harbor Commercial Com pany has caused Cosmopolis to be cursed from one end of the country to the other, because of the treatment which they put up to their employee. The mess-house has been discussed until it can be smelled from afar off and the method of securing men through falsifying employment agencies has been the topic among laborers about the state for more than year. Not long ago the Grays Harbor Commercial Company disposed of half a carload of valises and blankets which they had held for men who were shipped in from Seattle under a false prom ise from the employment agent. Labor at Cosmopolis is only half paid and not half fed. Men are worked overtime and paid only on the per cent of their little monthly salary, and day by day, the grasp of the greedy hand chokes the laborer into submission and filches from him the honest fruits of his toil.

"Cosmopolis, were it not for the One Man policy of the Grays Harbor Commercial Company, would be one of the best towns along the river, but no, the Grays Harbor Commercial Company do not want a town at that point and in consequence, they nght the idea of any other enterprise apringing up within the city limits. The Grays Harbor Commercial Company controls the city government and every other thing at Cosmopolis. It rules with an iron hand all things, and bars any project which would develop and make the country better. The Grays Harbor Commercial Company does not pay by one-third its share of taxes, it keeps, it is said, about 25,000,000 feet of logs on hand and gives in about 3,000,000 feet to the assessor. It asks men to do $4 worth of work for one dollar, it assists in collecting a $3 poll tax, when other towns demand but two. it pays the smallest wage scale in the state and forces men to board at a messhouse which is a disgrace to civilization It retards the building up of Cosmopolis and South Aberdeen and makes property which would be of much value to outside owners, almost worthless.

"With every natural advantage, there is no reason why the Grays Harbor Commercial Company should not pay the same wages as are paid in Aberdeen and Housam and leave the men free to board where they please instead of forcing them to eat in a mess-house and pay the company a profit on poor grub. All the strife now on the tapis of Chehalis county labor circles is born and bred in Cosmopolis and all because men who work there are recognized as slaves more than freeman. Chebalis county is suffering from lack of development, because of the Cosmopolis magnates and the sooner the matter is adjusted, the better it will be for all parties concerned. It is the duty of every laboring man to notify the unions of Scattle, Tacoma, Portland, Whatcom and Evereft to warn all laboring men from ship ping to Cosmopolis, as there is nothing there for them aside from hard work and poor wages." And the above is in the West where the young man is supposed to come and grow up with the country R M

Bristles With Lessons on the Working Class Failure to Organize on Class-Conscious Lines and Capture Political Position-Police and the Agreement.

San Pedro, Cal., May 20 .- Lumber Yard Company Let Down Easy by San Pedro Federal Labor Union." These headlines create the impression that the Federal Labor Union of San Pedro, Cal., had really won a victory, but I, as a member of that organization, am sorry to say, what is more likely, that the opposite statement would be the truth. I leave it to the intelligence of the readers to decide, after going over the facts given

The Federal Labor Union received a call for aid from Port Bragg Union, Cal., which is at present locked out, also from Redondo Union members, who are striking to raise their wages from 25 to 30 cents per hour. The members of this union unanimously voted to assist those two organizations by sending financial aid and by refusing to handle any of the lumber brought down by steamers from Port Bragg; also lumber which had been shipped to Redondo to be discharged; but owing to the strike in said town could not be handled there.

On May 17 a public mass meeting was held in Weatherby Hall, where everything went smoothly for a while, the various speakers confining themselves to the pure and simplers' standpoint of the labor question, such as about the workingmen only being enttiled to a certain portion of the wealth which they produce. Two lawyers especially were enthusiastically applauded for their statements that the interests of the business men, lawyers and the wageworkers were the same. On the strength of this statement they thereby expect to get some of the workers' votes at some future election.

After these worthies or "friends of labor," who always declare how honorable labor is, but most respectfully decline to share that honor, had finished, I made a few remarks about the necessity of all workingmen standing together, also urging them not to be satisfied with only a portion of the wealth they produced, but to fight for the whole of it, which they could get by the intelligent use of the ballot.

A member of the Federal Labor Union, also of the "Socialist" party, rose to "bore from within," but he was yelled at by a ruffianly fellow to sit down. After several unsuccessful attempts of the chairman to restore order the meeting

San Pedro Lumber Company attempted tal met its "Waterloo" by having to sign to unload the steamer. A few menunionists as well as non-unionists-were ordered by the foreman to work the steamer, but were induced by the secretary of the union to refuse to be used as tools against their striking fellow workers at Port Bragg and Redondo. This angered the foreman and one of the straw bosses, both of whom thereupon in capitalistic "law and order" style, jumped upon the secretary-one holding him while the other pummelled him. Fortunately help was near, and the two "herocs" had to retreat. A curious feature of the strike was the sight of the union sailors and officers of the steamer making loads and landing them on the dock. I tried to induce them to quit work previously, but failed, they having signed their rights away not to join in any sympathetic strike through the influence and misleading arguments of the great labor misleader Andrew Furseth. They argued something like this: That they are not interested in the strikes of other organizations; that they have fought enough battles for others, and are now allied with the capitalists by the strength of their brotherly agreement, to quit fighting one mother and Labor Alliance, when and taking part in a fight with a reof those wicked labor organizations. The control on the other, and still may, through jealousy, try to wrenefit with the central body. from their big brother, capital, the little wealth he has so honorably earned through industriously working the work ers. Although they did not quite use those words, it amounted to the same thing. As it has always been against the rule for any of the ship's crew to handle cargoes on the wharves, they were scabbing it on the 'longshoremen by their actions. When their business agent came around he notified them to quit.

The lumber yard officials, seeing that they were unsuccessful in creating any disturbance by attacking the officer of the union, or getting the men to fight among themselves by any other means, hit upon another scheme. They had the city marshall, deputy sheriffs and other "friends" of labor ordered to San Pedro. They carried a "friendly" message from the capitalists to the workers under their coats, which they intended to de liver by tapping the workers on the head, as a sign of gratitude for having surrendered their political as well as eco-nomical power into the capitalists' hands, But fate was against them. The workers at that time were merely trespassers on the company's ground, and did not seem to care to receive the mes sage, and, when politely told to move off the holy ground, where the wealth of the god of capital is every day nourished by the sweat of the wage worker's brow, they, with some mild protests, moved on, sore to the bottom of their hearts over the mean act of their big brother capital, for whom they had built those wharves and stacked those lumber piles. and to whom they had each election given their best weapon-the ballot-to secure which, workingmen in generations past have faced exile and death. I could not help feeling jealous, seeing those big fellows, only four in number, but possessing the political power, move such a big crowd of men along. I gave vent to my feelings by calling out to my fellow work "Here you see how handy the poera: litical club would come in, if we had voted it to ourselves."

Then, addressing the deputies, I told them that, by the grace of the workers they are enabled to use that club against would learn a lesson from this event and us; but that I hoped the workers here vote for Socialism, thereby wrenching that club from their hands and the class they represented.

"Oh, no! my friends," they retorted: we are not trying to use any political power over you. We are here to protect you as well as the lumber company.

We informed the deputies that there was no chance for them to apply their protection to us, as we were willing to step outside the holy place. They left us wishing us the best of success, and assured us of their everlasting friend-

But the presence of the deputies and the absence of the strikers did not alter the situation. The foreman was soon running around, asking men, one by one, either to work the steamer or quit the employ of the company. Union and nonunion men alike walked out together.

The following morning rumors were affoat that severa! members of the union had made threats of scabbing it on the union by going to work on the steamer. Next a report was circulated from reliable sources that the lumber owners had made a statement that if it would cost as much money as it would require to cover every piece of lumber with silver dollars, they would have the lumber discharged. They might have added, if it would cost as many lives of workers as there were pieces of lumber.

Those statements made the executive committee wobble. They thereupon interviewed the foreman, who, in return, was anxious to have Brothers Labor and Capital brought together again, and, like a good angel of peace, led the commitroke up.

The following morning, May 18, the the "holiest of holies," where King Capian agreement, the principal part of which consisted in a declaration to the effect that the San Pedro Lumber Company would take back to its employ all those men who walked out, rather than do something they did not want to do, providing those men would reverse their decision so that it would read, they would sooner keep their jobs by doing that which they did not care to do.

That being settled, the next "defeat" to the lumber company was the signing of the following worded agreement:

"It would be foolish during the present labor troubles at Port Bragg for us to get any lumber from those quarters. Then came the signatures of the foreman and the executive committee of the Federal Labor Union.

Thus another "great victory" was added to ever so many similar labor victories of the American Federation of

My chest fills with pride when I think of how many more such victories the working class organized on pure and simple lines will have to win before they will recognize the necessity of organizing on the lines of the Socialist Trade and Labor Alliance, where it will be impossible for one organization to senb it on the other, and still remain affiliated A. SAN FRANCISCO WORKINGMEN PLAY SMALL PART IN PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION. Election Time Not Near Enough to Give Them Prominence in the Pageantry-Class Struggle Breaks Forth From Amidst the Glamor of the Occasion.

(Special Correspondence to The Daily and Weekly People.)

San Francisco, Cal., May 17.-The working class of San Francisco played but small part in the pageantry that welcomed President Roosevelt to the Pacific Coast. It is hardly near enough to election time for the proletariat to be much in evidence here, and they were obliged to content themesives with rushing from corner to corner and from street to street, shouting themselves hoarse and frantically waving cheap cetton flags in honor of "their" nation's They did not enter the great banquet hall or ride in the long procession. To be sure, the President of the Labor Council succeeded in getting a place in one of the carriages that followed in the train, but then he is a Kangaroo of national fame and effectually trained to feats of great agility.

The streets were beautifully decorated with evergreens and flags, and throngs of visitors in holiday attire enlivened the ever shifting scene. Bright miltary bands flashed here and there throughout the crowd, and strains of martial music filled the air.

The ordinary citizen might almost have felt lost midst these unwonted sights and sounds, but high above the clamor oof the throng arose at length a long familiar cry: "Unfair house; unfair house"; then dragged along in slow reiteration, "Unfair, unfair, unfair!" But who heeded the doleful cry! Not the President of the great nation, doffing his hat to the adoring crowd; not the President of the Labor Council, holding firmly to his somewhat doubtful seat in the array; not the workingmen and women of the city, rushing wildly after the display; not even the weary piskets themselves, drawling half-consciously their monotonous refrain. Yet that discordant cry was the only true note in all that crash of sound. Unfair it certainly was, but the word extended farther than the pitiful little shop before which the accusers stood.

The procession was worth noting. The splendid regiment of colored troops whose fine figures seemed part of the steeds they rode so royally, and whose black faces flashed with barbaric enthusiasm, might have transported the spectator far into the distant past had he not been suddenly recalled by the appearance of the President and his train Verily the sight of any assemblage of bourgeois citizens would dim the beauty of romance itself, and the representatives of the republic on this occasion were essentially modern. But the "strenuous" President has after all a certain charm. His strong, vulgar countenance is full of intelligence. He is a veritable type of the civilization which he represents. Indeed, it would seem as if the true American spirit had at last expressed itself fully, though accidentally, in the person of its chief execu-

The man is consistent, too, and in most of his speeches here the supporters of capitalism did well to applaud his words. When at the dedication of the Dewey monument he exclaimed with enthusiasm: "The greatness of a nation depends upon its warships, guns and sailors" the bourgeois crowd did well to cheer, although even the capitalist economists would hardly agree with such a statement, and the poets of all ages bear witness against it. His great expansion speech at the pavilion was only what was to be expected. Neither the speech nor the enthusiasm with which it was received admits of criticism. But, when speaking of the school review, which was part of his program here, he tells us that the sight of the ranks of the children of the night school gave him the greatest pleasure of all, patience ceases to be a virtue. Here are hundreds of growing children dragging their weary little bodies into school at night because their days which ought to be divided between school and play are employed in slaving for their daily read! Even the President of the United States and Emperor of the Philippines might be expected to show companetion, if not horror, at the sight. But let it go on. The pageant is pass-

He is the "men of labor who have educated themselves out of their classes" to lead the workers. One glimpse of him will suffice to show the quality of this "leadership."

At the twenty-first conference the "impossibilists" whipped the government to standstill. The possibilists were wild with impotent rage. To those who know Quelch the idea of him personally physically stabbing anyone is very whimsical. The only thing he was ever known to stab was a bottle of whiskey-in the neck with a corkscrew. The scene might be described by paraphrasing the classic quotation:

There the leading lights of the "organized Social Democracy" spend much of the time they draw pay for to do the Federation's work. Recently the pavement at this spot sprang up and injured the arm of the last mentioned "comrade" so badly that they had to hire someone else to do the work. For this he was censured by the E. William B. Mountain, et al., defendant. City and County of New York, ss.:

Harvey C. Bowerman, being duly sworn, says that he resides at 510 East Eighty-first street, in the City and County of New York, and is the editor and business manager in the employ of the The New York Socialist Publishing Company, and is engaged in editing and publishing The New York Socialist and Trade Union Review, and while he was in his office at No. 23 Duane street, said city, this 3d day of April, 1903, the de fendant, William B. Mountain, and "John Doe" violently attempted to enter said premises and force themselves in and created a disturbance which resulted in deponent bringing in a policeman. That since then and again on the 3d day of April, the defendants have stationed themselves in the hallways leading to the plaintiff's place of business, and, with threats of violence and assaults, tried to prevent the deponent's and plaintiff's ingress to said premises.

That deponent further says that he is in possession of said premises in behalf of the plaintiff and has the keys to the same, but that the defendants tried to prevent him from going into his place of business and are interfering with the plaintiff in its business of publishing No. 7 of the issue of The New York So cialist and Trade Union Review.

That deponent prays that injunction may be issued against the defendants, so that this issue may be published. That he has read the complaint and the same is true of his own knowledge.

H. C. Bowerman. Sworn to before me this 3d day of April, 1903.

George C. Richards,

Notary Public, New York City, N. Y.

City and County of New York, ss.: William B. Mountain, being duly sworn, says that he is one of the defendants in the action; that in January he was approached by James N. Wood, one of the affiants in this proceeding, with an offer to publish a paper called the New York Socialist and Trade Union Review and that said Wood would furnish the funds to finance the paper, and that if the venture proved successful the said Wood would purchase an interest in deponent's printing plant, and that they would continue to publish the paper to gether. That, acting on said offer, deponent purchased from one John T. Falon a half interest in the Beaver Press for $150 and afterward bought the entire interest from said John T. Fallon in the said Beaver Press, as appears from the annexed receipt and bill of sale marked exhibit A and B. That ever since the purchase of said plant deponent was and still is the sole owner of the said Beaver Press printing plant, at No. 23 Duane atrest. That the said newspaper did not prove a success, its paid circulation never exceeding 100 copies and its advertising patronage amounting to $2. That Harvey C. Bowerman at no time held any laterest in the said Beaver Press or owned any part thereof. That in February, 1903, the James N. Wood and Bowerman suggested to deponent that a corporation be organized for publication of said paper, stating that they could interest sufficient parties to raise three thousand ($3,000) dollars. That a meeting was called for the purpose of organizing the plaintiff corporation on the 24th day of February, 1903, at which were present James N. Wood, Harvey C. Bowerman, W. C. McNabb, W. H. Winner, Fred H. Halcomb, E. F. Higley and deponent. That at said meeting it was decided to incorporate the plaintiff and following directors were elected to serve until the first annual meeting: The deponent, W. B. Mountain; Fred H. Halcomb, W. H. McNabb, H. C. Bowerman and James N. Wood. That the certificate of incorporation was thereupon executed by deponent and others. That it was also resolved to begin business when a thousand ($1,000) dollars worth of stock was paid in. That the first meeting of the corporation was held on Sunday, March 22, 1903, at the office of the deponent, 23 Duane street. That the only action taken at said meeting was the election of officers, and that James N. Wood was elected president; John Wilkins, secretary, and the deponent, treasurer. That the said meeting was the only meeting held by the stockholders or directors of the corporation. That neither the directors nor stockholders ever authorized the purchase of the Beaver Press by the corporation nor the issue of any stock in payment therefor. That dependent never executed a bill of sale to plaintiff nor ever was requested to do so, and never appeared before Edward W. Searing on the 23d day of March or at any other time and acknowledged the execution of any bill of sale. That the only papers deponent signed to his knowledge were the incorpora-tion certificates. That at no time did the said Bowerman pay a dellar fer any stock, and the total amount paid in sixty-one (861) dollars. That on the 27th day of March, 1903, deponent informed James N. Wood and Bowerman that he would not print the paper, as it was a failure, and, there being no funds and the thousand ($1,000) dollars had not been paid in for the stock of the corporation to authorize it to commence business. That on the first day of April. 1903, said Bowerman, William Wood, a brother of James N. Wood and two other persons entered deponent's place of business and forcibly ejected him from his place of business. That prior thereto deponent was handed by Edward W. Searing, plaintiff's attorney herein, an envelope, who immediately left. That an examination of said envelope showed it to contain a certificates for sixty shares of stock of the plaintiff of the par value of three hundred ($300) dollars. That the issue of said stock was never authorized by the board of directors nor did deponent agree to accept, except upon condition that a thousand ($1,000) dollars worth of stock was actually paid in. That the present action was never authorized by the board of directors and is brought by the said James N. Wood without any authority whatever. That after the ejection of deponent he was handed by Bowerman letter, of which the following is a true copy:

"New York, N. Y., March 31, 1903.

Wm. B. Mountain, Esq.: Dear Sir—As president of the New York Socialist Company I beg to inform you that your services are no longer required by the company. You will kindly turn over all papers and property of said company to Mr. H. C. Bower man, your successor.

"Yours truly, "James N. Wood, President."

That the said James N. Wood had no power to depose deponent from his office as treasurer of the plaintiff and the acts of said James N. Wood are illegal and amount to a usurpation of authority. That deponent regained possession of his property, the Beaver Press. That on the 3d day of April, with the said Bowerman was deponent was taken to the police court, where he was charged Bowerman with wrongfully taking possession of the Beaver Press, and there for the first time saw a bill of sale pur porting to be signed by deponent. That deponent never signed said bill of sale and the charge was dismissed by the magistrate. That deponent remained in ossession of the Beaver Press, of which he is the rightful owner, and was in possession thereof at the time of the making of the injunction order. That said Bowerman and Wood, under color of the injunction order, forcibly entered deponent's place of business, breaking the locks in deponent's absence and are depriving deponent of his property, contrary to law and justice. That proceeding herein is a result of a conspiracy between the said James N. Wood, H. C. Bowerman and Edward W. Searing to defraud deponent of his property in order to publish a paper which they have no means to publish otherwise. That as deponent is informed James N. Wood is single and occupies a room with his brother at 321 East Sixteenth street. That neither said Wood or Bowerman are worth five hundred ($500) dollars and the undertaking herein is worthless. That the said Bowerman told deponent on the 20th day of March, 1903, that he was about to be dispossessed for non-payment of rent. That said Bowerman never had any interest in the Beaver Press. That a copy of the order to show cause and affidavits was handed deponent by said Bowerman, but the original order was not shown.

Wherefore deponent prays that the preliminary injunction herein be distolved and deponent restored to the possession of his property, wrongfully taken from him under color of the injunction Wm. B. Mountain. herein.

Sworn to before me this 9th day of April, 1903. Sol. Summet, Notary Public.

New York Cit,

Edwin F. Higley, being duly sworn, deposes and says, that he resides at No. 184 Herkimer street, in the Borough of Brooklyn; that he knows James N. Wood, whose affidavit is annexed to the moving papers in this proceeding; that said Wood occupies a room with his brother at 321 East Sixteenth street, in the Borough of Manhattan, and that he has always known said Wood as an unmarried man; that deponent is a stockholder of the plaintiff corporation and one of the incorporators thereof; that prior to the incorporation of the plaintiff it was neither the owner of the printing plant at No. 23 Duane street, in the Borough of Manhattan, nor the publisher of any paper. That he was present at the meet ing of the incorporators and was the secretary thereof; that no motion was passed or action taken to purchase the Beaver Press printing plant.

Edwin F. Higley.

Sworn to etc., G. T. Rexer.

The plaintiff, by Edward W. Scaring, its attorney, complains and alleges that: 1. That it is a domestic corporation, duly incorporated by the laws of the State of New York, and are doing a general publishing business at Nb. 23 Duane street, in the City of New York, among other things publishing the New York Socialist and Trade Union Review.

II. That on April 3, 1903, while the plaintiff was in peaceful and quiet possession of its premises and carrying on its business at No. 23 Duane street, the defendant, William B. Mountain, and Richard Row and John Dow, forcibly obstructed and interfered with the plaintiff in its business and threatened to prevent the publication of its said paper and obstructed and injured the plaintiff in the free passage through the halls and entrance to its place of business at No. 23 Duane street, and still obstruct and threaten in the future to obstruct the plaintiff's business.

111. That the interferences and threats of the defendants, William B. Mountain, John Doe and Richard RRoe, and said obstructions have injured and delayed the plaintiff in its publication of the New York Socialist and Trade Union Review, and if they continue and are not restrained will prevent the publication of this week's issue of the same. That said publication is a weekly paper and if a single issue is prevented from being published, as aforesaid had threatened to

ing. That deponent saw no bill of sale I prevent, it would result in irreparable injury to the praintiff.

That the defendants violence in entering upon the plaintid's place of business and threats of violence and obstruction of the halls and entrances to plaintiff's business have prevented its taking its forms to press, and may prevent the publication of said paper.

IV. That the plaintiff has already suffered great damage therefrom.

Wherefore plaintiffs demands judgment against the defendants:

1. For a judgment of this court restraining the defendants from interfering with the plaintiff's business in any way, from blocking up the halls or preventing egress and ingress to the plaintiff's premises at No. 23 Duane street, or from doing any act without due course of law which will prevent the plaintiff from carrving on said business.

2. For a judgment for damages against the defendants for unlawful interference with its said business, and for such other and further relief as may be just.

Edward W. Searing. Plaintiff's Attorney, Leon A. Malkiel, being duly sworn, says that he is the attorney for the defendant, William B. Mountain, that on the 9th day of April, 1903, deponent personally examined the records in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York to ascertain whether the undertaking upon which the injunction was granted on the 4th day of April, 1903. was duly filed, as provided by Rule 4 of the General Rules of Practice, and found that the said undertaking was not filed, Leon A. Malkiel.

Sworn to, etc., Louis Jacobs.

City and County of New York, sa.:

James N. Wood, being duly sworn, says that he is the president of the plaintiff; that the defendant is one of the stockholders of the plaintiff, and claim the right to prevent the plaintiff from publishing the New York Socialist and Trade Union Review, and has created the obstruction set forth in the complaint which would prevent and does prevent such publication. That complaint was made by H. C. Bowerman, editor of the plaintiff, to the First District Police Court of the City of New York, on April 3, against the defendants for creating a disturbance and preventing the plaintiff from earrying on its business, but that police magistrate refused to entertain the complaint on the ground that, it belonged to a civil court and not to a police court, and deponent says that if an injunction is not issued plaintiff will be irretrievably damaged.

Cappright, 1003, by the NEW YORK LABOR NEWS COMPANY.

We live in the age of a great social Revolution, that every day makes further progress. A growingly powerful intellectual stir and unrest is noticeable in all the layers of society; and the movement es towards deep-reaching changes. All feel that the ground they on shakes. A number of questions have risen; they occupy the attention of ever widening circles; and discussion runs high on their solution. One of the most important of these, one that pushes itself ever more to the fore, is the so-called "Woman Question."

The question concerns the position that woman should occupy in ial organism; how she may unfeld her powers and faculties ns, to the end that she become a complete and useful of human society, enjoying equal rights with all. From our int, this question coincides with that other:—what shape and zation human society must assume to the end that, in the place m, exploitation, want and misery in manifold forms, there shall be physical and social health on the part of the individual and y. To us, accordingly, the Woman Question is only one of its of the general Social Question, which is now filling all which is setting all minds in motion and which, consequently, can find its final solution only in the abolition of the existing social stradictions, and of the evils which flow from them.

Nevertheless, it is necessary to treat the so-called Woman Question separately. On the one hand the question, What was the former posi-tion of woman, what is it to-day, and what will it be in the future? tion of woman, what is it to-day, and what will it be in the future? concerns, in Europe at least, the larger section of society, seeing that here the female are canatitutes the larger part of the population. On the other hand, the prevailing notions, regarding the development that woman has undergone in the course of centuries, correspond so little with the facis, that light about the subject becomes a necessity for the understanding at the process and of the future. Indeed, a good part of the prejudicus with which the ever-growing movement is looked upon in various similar—and not last in the circle of woman herself—rests upon lack of knowledge and lack of understanding. Many are heard claiming there is no Woman Question, because the position that soman formerly occupied, occupies to day and will in the future continue to occupy, is determined by her "natural calling," which destines her for wife and mother, and limits her to the sphere of the home. Accordingly, whatever lies beyond her four walls, or is not closely and obviously connected with her household duties, concerns her not. octed with her household duties, concerns her not.

On the Woman Question, the same as on the general Social Question which the position of the working class in society plays the chief opposing parties stand arrayed against each other. One party, that which would leave everything as it is, have their answer ready at hand; they imagine the matter is settled with referring woman to her "natural calling." They forget that, to-day, for reasons later to be developed, millions of women are wholly unable to fill that "natural so much insisted upon in their behalf, of householders, breeders and nurses of children; and that, with other millions, the "calling" has suffered extensive shipwreck-wedlock, to them, having turned into a yoke and into slavery, compelling them to drag along their lives in misery and want. Of course, this fact concerns those "wise men" as little as that other fact, that unnumbered millions of women, engaged in the several pursuits of life, are compelled, often in unnatural ways, and far beyond the measure of their strength, to wear themselves out in order to eke out a meager existence. At this unpleasant fact those "wise men" stuff their ears, and they shut their eyes with as much violence as they do before the misery of the working class, consoling themselves and others with "it has ever been, and will ever remain so. That woman has the right to share the conquests of civilization achieved in our days; to utilize these to the easing and improving of her condition; and to develop her mental and physical faculties, and turn them to advantage as well as man,-they will none of that. Are they told that woman must also be economically, in order to be physically and intellectually free, to the end that she no longer depend upon the "good-will" and the "mercy" of the other sex !- forthwith their patience is at end; their anger is kindled; and there follows a torrent of violent charges against the "craziness of the times," and the "insane emancipational efforts."

These are the Philistines of male and female sex, incapable of finding their way out of the narrow circle of their prejudices. It is the breed of the owls, to be found everywhere when day is breaking, and they cry out in affright when a ray of light falls upon their comfortable darkness.

Another element among the adversaries of the movement cannot shut its eyes before the glaring facts. This element admits that there was hardly a time when a larger number of women found themselves in so unsatisfactory a condition as to-day, relatively to the degree of general civilization; and they admit that it is therefore necessary to inquire how the condition of woman can be improved, in so far as she remains dependent upon herself. To this portion of our adversaries, the Social Question seems solved for those women who have entered the haven of matrimony.

In keeping with their views, this element demands that, to unmarried oman, at least, all fields of work, for which her strength and faculties are adequate, shall be opened, to the end that she may enter the competitive field for work with man. A small set goes even further, and demands that competition for work be not limited to the field of the lower occupations, but should also extend higher, to the professions, to the field of art and science. This set demands the admission of woman to all the higher institutions of learning, namely, the universities, which in many countries are still closed to her. Their admission is advocated to the classes of several branches of study, to the medical profession, to the civil service (the Pest Office, telegraph and railroad offices), for which they consider women peculiarly adapted; and they point to the practical results that have been attained, especially in the United States, through the employment of weman. The one and the other also make the demand that political rights be conferred upon woman. Woman, they admit, is human and a member of the State, as well as man: legislation, until now in the exclusive control of man. proves that he exploited the privilege to his own exclusive benefit, and kept woman in every respect under guardianship, a thing to be heaceis noteworthy that the efforts here roughly sketched, do not reach beyond the frame-work of the existing social order. The question never is put whether, these objects being attained, any real and thoroughgoing improvement in the condition of woman will have been achieved. Standing on the ground of bourgeois, that is, of the capitalist social order, the full social equality of man and woman is considered the solution of the question. These folks are not aware, or they slide over the fact that, in so far as the unrestricted admission of woman to the industrial occupations is concerned, the object has already been actually attained, and it meets with the strongest support on the part of the ruling class, who, as will be shown further on, find therein their own interest. Under existing conditions, the admission of women to all industrial occupations can have for its only effect that the competitive struggle of the working people become ever sharper, and rage ever more fiercely. Hence the inevitable result,-the lowering of incomes for female and male labor, whether this income be in the form of wage or salary.

That this solution cannot be the right one is clear. The full civic equality of woman is, however, not merely the ultimate object of the men, who, planted upon the existing social order, favor the efforts in behalf of woman. It is also recognized by the female bourgeois, active in the Woman Movement. These, together with the males of their mental stamp, stand, accordingly, with their demands in contrast to the larger portion of the men, who oppose them, partly out of oldfogy narrowness, partly also-in so far as the admission of woman to the higher studies and the better-paid public positions is concerned—out of mean selfishness, out of fear of competition. A difference in principle, however, a class difference, such as there is between the working and the capitalist class, does not exist between these two sets of male and female citizens.

Let the by no means impossible case be imagined that the representatives of the movement for the civic rights of woman carry through all their demands for placing woman upon an equal footing with man. What then? Neither the slavery, which modern marriage amounts to for numberless women, nor prostitution, nor the material dependence of the large majority of married women upon their marital lords, would thereby be removed. For the large majority of women it is, indeed, immaterial whether a thousand, or ten thousand, members of their own sex, belonging to the more favored strata of society, land in the higher branches of learning, the practice of medicine, a scientific career, or some government office. Nothing is thereby changed in the total condition

The mass of the female sex suffers in two respects: On the one side woman suffers from economic and social dependence upon man. True enough, this dependence may be alleviated by formally placing her upon an equality before the law, and in point of rights; but the dependence is not removed. On the other side, woman suffers from the economie dependence that woman in general, the working-woman in particular, finds berself in, along with the workingman.

Evidently, all women, without difference of social standing, have an interest—as the sex that in the course of social development has been oppressed, and ruled, and defiled by man-in removing such a state of things, and must exert themselves to change it, in so far as it can be changed by changes in the laws and institutions within the framework of the present social order. But the enormous majority of women is furthermore interested in the most lively manner in that the existing State and social order be radically transformed, to the end that both wage-slavery, under which the working-women deeply pine, and sex slavery, which is intimately connected with our property and industrial systems, be wiped out.

The larger portion by far of the women in society, engaged in the movement for the emancipation of woman, do not see the necessity for such a radical change. Influenced by their privileged social standing, they see in the more far-reaching working women's movement dangers, not infrequently abhorrent aims, which they feel constrained to ignere, eventually even to resist. The class-antagonism, that in the general social movement rages between the capitalist and the working class, and which, with the ripening of conditions, grows sharper and more pronounced, turns up likewise on the surface of the Woman's Movement; and it finds its corresponding expression in the aims and tactics of those engaged in it.

All the same, the hestile sisters have, to a far greater extent than the male population-split up as the latter is in the class struggle-a points of contact, on which they can, although marching separately, strike jointly. This happens on all the fields, on which the question is the equality of woman with man, within modern so-This embraces the participation of woman in all the fields of human activity, for which her strength and faculties are fit; and also ber full civil and political equality with man. These are very important, and as will be shown further on, very extensive fields. Besides all this the working woman has also a special interest in doing battle hand in hand with the male portion of the working class, for all the means and institutions that may protect the working woman from physical and moral degeneration, and which promise to secure to her the vitality and fitness necessary for motherhood and for the education of children. Furthermore, as already indicated, it is the part of the working-woman to make common cause with the male members of her class and of her lot in the struggle for a radical transformation of society, looking to the establishment of such conditions as may make possible the real economic and spiritual independence of both sexes, by means of social institutions that afford to all a full share in the enjoyment of all the conquests of civilization made by mankind.

The goal, accordingly, is not merely the realization of the equal rights of woman with man within present society, as is aimed at by the bourgeois woman emancipationists. It lies beyond,-the removal of all impediments that make man dependent upon man; and, consequently, one sex upon the other. Accordingly, this solution of the Woman Ques tion coincides completely with the solution of the Social Question. It follows that he who aims at the solution of the Woman Question to its full extent, is necessarily bound to go hand in hand with those who have inscribed upon their banner the solution of the Social Question as a question of civilization for the whole human race. These are the Socialists, that is, the Social Democracy.

Of all existing parties in Germany, the Social Democratic Party is the only one which has placed in its programme the full equality of woman, her emancipation from all dependence and oppression. And the party has done so, net for agitational reasons, but out of necessity, out of principle. There can be no emancipation of humanity without the social independence and equality of the seres.

Up to this point all Socialists are likely to agree with the presentation made of fundamental principles. But the same cannot be said on the subject of the manner in which we portray the ultimate aims to ourselves; how the measures and special institutions shall be shaped which will establish the simed-at independence and equality of all members of the sexes, consequently that of man and woman also.

The moment the field of the known is abandoned, and one launches out into pictures of future forms, a wide field is opened for speculation. Differences of opinion start over that which is probable or not probable. That which in that direction is set forth in this book can, accordingly, be taken only as the personal opinion of the author himself; possible attacks must be directed against him only; only he is responsible

Attacks that are objective, and are honestly meant, will be welcome to us. Attacks that violate truth in the presentation of the contents of this book, or that rest upon false premises we shall ignore. For the rest, in the following pages all conclusions, even the extremest, will be drawn, which, the facts being verified, the results attained may warrant. Freedom from prejudice is the first condition for the recognition of truth. Only the unrestricted utterance of that which is, and must be, leads to the (Te be Continued)

Florence, April 24.—The late attempt at a general strike in Rome has set the ctions of the Italian Socialists-Revolutionary and the Reformistbattle is that the Avanti, the general lly organ of the entire party, takes a side of Turati, the leader of the Reists, against the leader of the Revtionists, Enrico Ferri, who has but been chosen as the new director of paper since the relignation of Bis-

The question at issue is this: At the great Congress of Imola, Pietro Chiesa and Gino Murialdi, in their diligent and chaustive reports on the econ nisation of the industrial proletarist, hile admitting the utility of a general rike as a protest against violent or actionary political measures, demonstrated its inexpediency as an econom on. Moreover, they deprecated the m of unorganized, sudden, unjustiatrikes in the several trades, and conclusions were endorsed by about quarters of the Congress. Two hip of Ferri, while agreeing as to the portuneness of a general strike as mic weapon, maintained that the separate trades were the sures calculated to ameliorate odition of the industrial working, , and were, moreover, educational de of organization and propera-They maintained that the "revoionist leaders" in all cases of a strike, ditated or proposed ught to mix the strikers, moderating or stimlating the movement as might appear

Upon this about 2000 printers went on strike without consulting the heads of the Federatien, and without, it appears, any reserve fund on which to subsist during their struggle. Their comrades, however, in other cities came out with generous support, but the masters took on other workmen, and this introduction of "blacklegs" (krumiri, so called after the African tribe which gave France a pretext for the invasion and occupation of Tunis) exasperated the men to such a point that, disorders being feared, the government, while maintaining strict neutrality between the contending par-ties, called into Rome sufficient forces to everage uny revolutionary agitators, to printing establishments and rights of labor in the perprote "blacklegs." During these mens o weeks, as "Revelutionary Socialists" kept aloof, neither inciting nor moderating the strikers. They made, it is true, some attempts to arrange terms with the masters, but, failing, took no further part in the proceedings. Meanwhile the masters withdrew the offer of a ninehour day, refused to dismiss the men summoned to replace those on strike, and refused to treat with the "Federaposals made by the Deputies Luzzatti and Roux (head of the great publishing

All the commercial and industrial firms in Reme united in their societies and asaction of the government, prophesying a complete victory, and solelmnly affirm-ing that all the industrial and commercial firms were and would remain their stanch allies; that all were ready to share the responsibility which the gov-ernment cast on their shoulders for the

and indisputable triumph of their common cause. This challenge to the men on strike when the contest was at its height, was the signal for action on the part of the other working classes in Rome, where rumors of a general strike had prevailed more or less during the first days of April, and here especially it was the duty of the Revolutionist leaders to intervent to prevent a useless and most inopportune demonstration. Enrico Ferri, requested to speak in behalf of the strike, delivered instead an academic discourse on the "Future of Human Labor." Interviewed by the correspondent of a Neapolitan newspaper, he deprecated a general strike at the mement when Rome was crowded with visitors, gathered there for the Easter ceremonies, for the great historical and other congresses; but made no attempt to prevent it. At first the typegraphers hesitated to obey the callthe Labor Bureau (especially the republican members of the executive) was against it; but it was evident that the working classes themselves had decided to come out as soon as the employers of labor decided on making common cause with the heads of the printing houses. First, the stonemasons on the Victor Emmanuel monument abandoned their work: and the contractor, without taktion of the Book," declining all the pro- ; ing on other hands, gave notice that the works would be closed until further notice. The executive summened the leaders of the sep arate trades, thanked them for their generous manifestation of levalty to their working comrades in misfortune," daual vocations, which probably after enjoying their brief Roman holiday, they did with the utmost alacrity. No notice was taken of their absence by their employers, who had not had time to take on new hands. Giolitti, Minister of the Interior, was congratulated on his pre cautions for the prevention of disorder and the avoidance of bloodshed, by the King and himself, and by all but the employers of the typographical strikers, who meanwhile remained in the same condition as before the general strikeeven werse off, as the employers, encouraged by the pledges of the other industrial and commercial capitalists, became more resolute in refusing to treat with the Federation as such. The newspapers, which had been suspended during the strike, mostly counselled submission. The Revolutionary Socialists still kept silence, but the men were so exasper ated that, when called upon by the chief mover and leader of the strike, Parpagpolli, to decide on surrender or on submission by appeal to a general referendum, 1400 voted by ballot for the continuation of the strike, less than 300 for ta constion. Here the Labor Bureau did intervene to prove to them the utter hopel-samess of holding out. So to necessity they yielded; the employers refusing to dismiss a single krumir, taking the strikers back one by one, according to the roll-lists, and sending personal summons to the respective houses of the men, in no case treating with the Federazione del Libro.-Special correspondence to the New York Evening Pest.

MULVIEILUS FIX

A year or so ago Mr. Mulvihill was lected Mayor of the city of Bridgeport, Ct. He was a workingman, was picked out of a union by capitalist politicians, and set up and run as a Labor candidate, and elected. His election was the signal for shouts of joy from certain quarters. Mr. Debe gave the "Labor Mayor" his pontifical blessing, and the cry went up that "Labor was coming by its own."

Since then, the trolley employes of Bridgeport and vicinity went on strike. These hard-worked men, who have to do the work of two or three persons-con tors, switchmen, and what not-who are kept in a state of perpetual high tension and receive for that starvation wages and inhuman hours; -these me anded better conditions, were refused. and struck. That's the status to-day,and Mulvibill's fix is on.

As Mayor on a capitalist platform the "Labor Mayor" is caught in a cleft stick of many clefts:

The pure and simple Unionism that he is the "Labor" of is in itself contradiction enough for any man, especially if is public office. Such Unionism moves instinctively, but only up to a certain point, along class lines: "it wants more." But there it stops. Another of its principles, "the rights of capital," blocks the ical development of the class instinct Labor. If capital has rights, its right must be granted. Seeing, however, hat Capital cannot live except by inly grinding down Labor, pure and n runs into a blind alley promise results, and that is the cal corruption of the leaders, or, to be more specific, the Mulvihill "Labor

But that, of course, is no solution The original class instinct at times gets the best of the "compromise," but being entirely blind takes absurd turns. One of these is violence at strikes, in other words violent endeavors to establish har us relations. Such absurd moves bring the absurdity of capitalistically ed "Labor Mayors," etc., to a climax. The result is that Mulvihill is struck by brick-bats by the strikers, and at the same time has his nose brought within a quarter of an inch of the out-and-out italist Sheriff's fist.

The fix of Mulvihill should be a warp ing that the straight road, the logical road is the only road: the road of com-

A careful scanning of the above justifies the theory that a good portion of the original whereases and resolutions must have placarried in transportation. To present them as above, and as is being done by the ald "Socialist" party press, is very much like the fragmentary presentation of some curious ante-diluvian monster of whom only fragments have fallen into the nat uralist's hands. A Curier "restores" the fossil. From his knowledge of anatomy, etc., he concludes as to how the missing parts must have looked, and he then presents the "restored" animal from head to toes. The same method and system being now applied to the published fragments of the Omaha Resolution, the following un published and in transportation miscar ried fragments may be given to the pub lic, along with the above fragments that did not miscarry:

THE "SICK MAN OF THE WEST."

Washington Seligmann lies in Roosevelt Hospital, a prisoner under the charge of attempted suicide. In rooms contiguous and connected with those occupied by the ex-actress, Anita Sutherland, he lived at the Rossmore Hotel, and there tried last Wednesday to cut his throat with a razor. Financial reverses in Wall street, and, of course, also ill health, are the causes assigned by him for his deed.

Suicide is, unfortunately, no uncomnon occurrence in our days. Economic distress, or that even worse visitation, the spectre of the fear of economic distress, accompanied by its inevitable accompaniment of ill health, with increasingly recurring frequency wields the suicidal blade. The present instance, however, does not merely furnish cumula tive evidence; it does not even merely emphasize an ominous social phenom mon; it does a good deal more. The circumstances that surround the casethe would-be suicide's membership in the wealthy financiers' family of the Seligmanns, and his consequent close relationship with one of the official professor of capitalism, Prof. E. R. A. Seligmann of Columbia University, together with his intimacy and costly relations with Anita Sutherland-make of it a flashlight occurrence that "illumines the whole

Capitalist society is a social system in unstable equilibrium. The economic laws, under which distress and despair are carried into the homes of the workingmen, bring but Pyrrhic victories to the individual members of the capitalist class. Together with the material spoils taken from the working class, the capitalist class absorbs psychic qualities that place it also under the harrow. Habits of luxury are acquired that raise artificial happiness to the rank of an essential condition of life. Thus, while below actual distress brings on despair, above, an amount of wealth that would gladden thousands of plundered workingmen's homes is considered trifling and inadequate, and shrivels like ashes in the hands of its possessor, leading him, through identical mental strain, to identical acts of despair. Nor is that all. Below, where the plundered workingman is worried to death, the smoke of the conflagration is smothered. Not so the Department of Economics of the above, where the plundering capitalist University of Michigan, says the laborer the conflagration is smothered. Not so undergoes corresponding worries; and how intense these workies must be may be just now gathered at a glance from the stock quotations. Above, the smoke of the conflagration is not smothered, it expands and carries into the air the soot tongues of peculiar flame and luridness,-the Anita Sutherland, or "morality and order" tongue of flame in this instance, for instance. How irrepressible the explosion, may by this time be realized even by the would-be suicide's cousin, Prof. E. R. A. Seligmann, who only recently tried self-complacently to hold up the capitalist end of society at a public gathering in this city. The crumbling, hopelessly crumbling, and only artificially and temporarily propped up Turkinsh Empire has been well designated the "Sick Man of the East." The West also has its "Sick Man "_CAPITALIST SOCIETY

THE LATEST SAMPLE.

On July 1 there will go into effect law, or rather a clause of a law, that may be designated a master piece of capitalist legislation. The law in ques tion is officially known as the "Agricultural Appropriation" bill, signed by the President on last March 3: the clause in question is one that empowers the Secretary of Agriculture to investigate the adulteration of foods, drugs and liquors, whenever he has reason to believe that articles ARE BEING IMPORTED FROM FOREIGN COUNTRIES which, "by reason of adulteration, are dangerous to the health of the people of the United States."

It is difficult to decide upon an exact name for this law or clause. To cover its many sides, a many-yards-long name would be requisite. It is a "grand manoeuvre" whereby, not two, but two score flies are all seen to with one clap: it assumes governmental solicitude for the people's health,-without undue regard for the pockets of the domestic adulterating capitalist; it assumes a high grade of interference by the collectivity for the protection of the individual,-without doing violence to that "Americanism" that resents the "mousing" into the "private business" of the citizen; it assumes an ethical understanding of "Government,"-without in the least touching the indecency of that "cleverness," that consists in making money, no matter how. It is now about ten years ago when a Nebraskan, Senator Paddock, suffering from a sudden qualm of conscience at the unconscionable adulterations of foods and drugs, introduced in Congress a bill for their inspection. The Senator and his bill soon looked like the incau tious meddler who stirs a hornet's nest The howl that went up against him and it, and the thrusts that were made at both were "quite frightful to see." Indignant "American Individualism" got on its ears, and shook its gory locks at the desecrator of their "rights, privileges and immunities" to poison the people. To make a weird story short, the bill and its sponsor were dropped; and they both dropped out of sight.

But what's sauce for the goose is not always sauce for the gander. One thing is to interfere with the "rights, privileges and immunities" of our domestic capitalists, and another it is to interfere with the "rights, privileges and immunities" of their foreign competitors, who sought to trespass and were trespassing upon the preserves of our domestic lords in double-skinning the American public-skinning it of its money and of its health. As a result of the clear perception of this unquestionable difference, the clause in question found its way into the Agricultural Appropriation bill, and preparations are being made for its rigid enforcement,the more rigidly enforced, all the more numerous being the victims of our domestis lords.

And that's what Capitalist Government is there for.

A few weeks ago the New Haven and Hartford railroad raised the wages of its trainmen. The increase was heralded as a "victory for organized labor." Since then the company has pursued a policy of "economy and retrenchment" to recoup its losses. First, it reduced the number of men on yard crews from 4 to 3. Next it increased the hours of labor. Finally it displaced a lot of clerical labor by abolishing some five offices through consolidation with other offices. All branches of labor on the line are dissatisfied as a result of this policy. A few more such "victories" and labor will be completely undone.

One Harrison Smalley, instructor in is an inferior animal to the capitalist, hence the latter's superiority. Unfor tunately, he does not tell us how it is that the capitalists generally evolve from those inferior animals, the laborers. The trouble with Smalley is that he has taken a Southern idea which denounces to a non-Party member; be it it expands and carries into the air the fig. Il Proletario, Giornale Socialista, 19 Carmine Street.

New York, 18, 5, 1903. Mr. Daniel De Leon,

Editor "Daily People. Dear Comrades of "The Daily People,"

New York City. We hope you will consider the oppor tunity of taking a step towards the organization by the Socialists of all countries in New York of a general mass meeting in order to protest against the orrors of Kishineff. We find we ought to take this initiative, not only in order to assert our horror for religious hatred and wholesale butchery of a people, but also because the Russian Jews are persecuted especially on account of their large contributions to the revolutionary movement in Russia.

The editors of the "Daily People," "Worker," and "Il Proletario" could join to form the committee.

> G. M. SERRATI, Editor of "Il Proletario."

Editorial Department. Daily People.

New York, May 19, 1903. Mr. M. G. Serrati, Editor "Il Proletario." New York City.

Dear Sir and Comrade:-I have yours of the 18th inst., in which you suggest that a step be taken for a general mass meeting to protest against the horrors of Kishineff, etc.; and that the editors of the "Daily People," "Worker," and "Il Proletario" join to form the committee.

A year or more ago it would have been so difficult to explain the situation to you that I might not have undertaken it. The facts from which my conclusions flowed, not being then within your reach. as you were still young in this country of Fata Morganas, you could not have been expected to understand my conduct. At is not so now."

At this very time you are engaged in hand-to-hand conflict in behalf of the Italian workingmen, on strike in the subway, against the labor fakirs. You have seen these labor fakirs seek to be tray the workingmen by the old dodge of advising their "return to work pending arbitration." You need not be told whose agents these labor fakirs are, and you have thus had forcibly brought to your attention what the mission of the abor fakir in America is.

During these performances of the labor fakirs, where have you seen the editor of the "Worker" stand? If he is a bons fide Socialist, was it and is it not his duty to ring the signal of alarm against these miscreant labor fakirs! to warn and enlighten the English dupes of these by emphatic exposures of these present acts of betrayals, and thus help to emancipate the workingmen whom they to-day sell out? Surely so. Was that the conduct of the editor of the Worker"? It boots us little to be Socialists in one corner of our mouths, and forget all about it at the other corner. As Socialists, we know how material interests dictate policies. The material interests of the editor of the "Worker" order him to keep his mouth shut. The editor of the "Worker" is an employe of a private corporation,-the Volkazei tung corporation; and it is an established fact that the corporation cannot exist without the good will of these laborbetraying labor fakirs. This fact controls the action of all its employes, of whom the editor of the "Worker" is one, and consequently he has been silent on and has been salaaming to the iniquities of these very labor fakirs, whom you have been struggling against. There are the columns of the "Worker" to tell the disgraceful tale. How would you like to find yourself on the same public platform with the editor who tolerated the very fakirs that have been trying to sell out your unhappy countrymen in this strike? What a Godsend would not the Kishiness atrocities be to these labor fakirs and their principals, together with such prostitute "Socialist" editors as the editer of the "Worker," if those atrocities abroad could help to conceal at home the mission of the labor fakir by throw ing into one pot both their supporters their opponents! The confusion would be ideal for the whole pack of miscreants. They could and can well afford to promote an abstract and distant good by accomplishing a concrete and nearby mischief, the confusing of the Would you give them a helping hand? I am sure you would not, at least not intentionally.

Now, as to the Kishineff atrocities themselves. I invite you to take a ride en the Second Avenue Elevated Road from Houston street down to Division. Look out of the cars, to the right and to the left. You will come across not less than forty crowded sweatshops. In this heat, the windows are thrown up; you can look in with ease. Of what race are these "sweated" human beings !lewish. Of what race are the vampires who "sweat" and bleed them !- Jewish These "sweated" Jewish workingman, workingwomen and children are being physically, mentally and morally ruined. They are being killed in body and soul by the slow process of physical and mental starvation; and this is being done to them by Jewish contractors and

ON LEADING TOP.CS O. THE the like. Can any raw-boned Cossack do worse? Alongside of these Jewish capitalistic "sweaters" of Jewish working people, the murderous Cossack is an He acts only under sudden impulses, and at certain periods; these Jewish capitalistic vampires, however, together with those higher in authority than they, act deliberately, calculatingly persistently, continuously. For every one Jew murdered in Russia by race and religious rage, hundreds are slaughtered right here, under the very shadow of our City Hall, by capitalist Jews. The condition of the Jewish working people here is that of a perpetual Kishineff only more beinous, because more covered and insiduous; only more atrocious, because carried on on a much larger scale.

Now, then, these identical Jewish cap-

Italistic vampires are leaders in the pro

ests against Kishineff. Of course. Well can they afford, in fact it pays them, to raise the dust of protest against the distant Kishineff, and under that very dust conceal the nearby Kishineffs that they are perpetually perpetrating, and that they mean to persevere in. The voice that would be raised by Socialists his People's Trust and Western Coagainst the RUSSIAN Kishineff atrocities only,-and none other is contemplated in your proposal-could only go to swell the volume of noise raised by these capitalistic Jewish vampires. Our work is to unmask these criminals at home and expose Kishineffism everywhere. Would you help them to keep the mask on, and thereby keep the eyes of their Jewish working people dupes shut? I don't think you would, at least not intentionally.

For these reasons I am constrained to decline both the purpose and the method of your proposition.

I am ready to join in any demonstration, even in behalf of an abstract good and against an abstract wrong, however distant the latter, Russian Kishineff atrocities included, provided the demon-stration is so conducted as to be of concrete, express, unquestioned and unquestionable and near-at-hand application, and all the switches are locked tight alainst derailments into vaporous and, therefore, mischievous, because confusing, sentimentalism. Yours fraternally, DANIEL DE LEON. Editor "Daily People."

A cousin of Governor Pennypacker, in discussing the cartoon libel bill that made the chief executive of the Keystone State notorious, says, "People make up their opinions from the newspapers they read " In this statement the cousin of Pennypacker speaks the truth; but he is guilty fof less regard for that quality when he says further, "It is to the in terests of newspaper publishers to get the truth and all the truth." Newspaper publishers are not moralists or scientists. They are business men and capitalists, representing vast economic, financial and political interests, that are not dependent on the sale of newspapers so much as they are on the creation of a favorable so-called public opinion. These newspaper publishers realize that "Peo ple make up their opinion from the newspapers," and they accordingly endeavor to have them, with the aid of the columns of the press, make up those opinions in a manner favorable to the in terests which they (the newspaper publishers) represent. Take the attitude of the press of this country, for instance, on the question of Socialism. None of them tell the truth about it. And why not? For the simple reason that, con-is not to their interests to tell the truth. Within sight of The Daily People building two unions-Big Six and the Franklin Pressmen-have their offices and employment bureaus. Every day groups of idle men may be seen lounging about them waiting like Micawber for "something to turn up," i. e., a job. Every one of these men show conclusively by that, so far as the printing trades are concerned, Mr. Rockefeller's statement, "There are no unemployed," has no application. A visit to the offices and employment bureaus of many other trades would undoubtedly show a like condition of af-trary to the opinion expressed by the relative of Pennsylvania's Governor it

It is now asserted that the President was informed one year ago of the Post Office scandals, but that he did nothing toward prosecuting the persons involved What has come over the quendam civil service reformer. Is he, too, availing himself of the latitude offered by the good old capitalist principle of promoting the material interests of the individual at the expense of seciety and the State

The Iron League has issued an ultimatum to the 4500 striking and lockedout workmen in the iron and wire trades threatening to fill their places with other men if ther don't return to work by the first of June. What would the Iron League do' Expese the prosperity fraud of there being more jobs than men by thus duplicating its forces?

Mitchell's further opinion that the differences beween employer and employe are only temporary and are only a sort of spring house cleaning leads to the belief that Mitchell regards the four seasons as one. Everybody else sees the "house cleaning" going on from one year's end to the other.

Chicago still continues to show great increases of population. How can Chicago be so cruel to those who claim is going back to the country?

There is a band of utopians who believe that capitalism can be displaced by means of co-operative societies, organized as stock companies. These societies, being nothing more nor less than corporations that are ill-equipped for the competitive struggle with the large aggregations of capital represented in the trust generally so the wall, carrytrust generally go the wall, carrying with them a train of other disast ers. The following is a case in point:

"Kansas City, Mo., May 17 .- Walter rooman, founder of the People's Trust Company, the Western Co-operative Company and other utopian schemes, in which ne spent hundreds of thousands of dollars, is the defendant in a divorce suit at Trenton, Mo., brought by his wife. who supplied him with $250,000 to carry on his plans. Mrs. Vrooman was former ly Miss Anne Graffin, of Baltimore. She gave her husband one-third of her for tune of $750,000, to be used in the furtherance of his schemes, as she was tascinated with the idea of assisting him in uplifting humanity.

to Trenton Mo "Vrooman came where he founded Ruskin College, and operative Company, operated from here as headquarters. When the two latter concerns failed last autumn, he bought up all the stock and saved all investors from financial loss. Ruskin College was moved to Chicago last month.

"Mrs. Vrooman, in her petition for divorce, charges her husband with inis not known whether fidelity. It Vrooman will contest the divorce proceedings.

The only way to displace capitalism is by social co-operation. Society must organize industry on a national and international scale. Trust evolution is preparing the way and proving it practicable. The next step will be to socialize the trust. There is no other method of co-operation that will succeed.

Bishop Potter, in his usually profound way of mistaking effects for causes, has announced a new cause for the present large number of strikes. He says they are due to petty bosses, or foremen, who drive the men in order to curry favor with their employers. Just why they should receive favor from their employ ers the sapient Bishop does not state Perhaps he would find an answer in the fact that to-day these petty bosses are acting in accord with the policy of in-dustrialism, dictated by their masters of intensifying labor abnormally in order to increase output, so that the markets of the world may be captured.

There they go again! The labor organizations are interfering with the devel-opment of the country. Read this and e convinced:

"Austin, May 10,-Railroad construction in Texas has practically ceased as a result, it is said, of an understanding between the larger systems to do no more work for the present. So, instead of 600, the new mileage of the State will not exceed 200 miles

"The Rockefeller, Harriman, Gould and Rock Island interests are understood to have entered into a five-year contract not to invade territory pre-empted by each in the State."

Recently an eight hour law for under ground miners was enacted in the State of Arizona. The operators declare that if the law is enforced wages will be reduced proportionately. One mine, the Poland, has discharged 150 men, who are experiencing difficulty in finding another job, and whom the company confidently expects to hire again on an eight hour law wage instead of a ten hour wage basis as formerly. In view of these facts is not the Socialist justified in claiming that nothing short of the working class control of capital will prove of benefit to that class?

Workingmen would do well to stay away from the Pacific Coast. According to the correspondents of The Daily People conditions there are not of the very best, especially is such places as Los Angeles, Cal. Yet from this and other centers along the coast those comes a demand via the capitalist press for more workingmen. Look out for this demand, it is meant to overstock the Pacific Coast labor market. The capitalists always count on the labor fakirs to defeat strikes. The K. of L. Building Constructors, District No. 253, has written a letter to the building contractors in this city making overtures looking to a settlement of the building trade strike. This district claims a membership of 10,000 and is prepared to supply men. Such is "organized labor." The innocent middle class makers of farm machinery are taking Roosevelt seriously and they have accordingly asked him to proceed to disorganize cap italist industry by proceeding against thirty-three combines. Poor fellows! they have still to learn that government is here to promote, not disintegrate capitalism, and that Roosevelt's anti-trust bluff is a means to that end.

The Chicago Federation of Labor denounces arbitration boards, employers' associations and labor commissioners as "snares, humbugs and influstrial pitfalls designed to crush labor unions." What has it got to say about the Gomperses. the Clarks, the Mitchells, et al., who promote these things? Aren't they "snares, humbugs and industrial pitfalls designed to crush labor unions" also?

UNCLE SAM AND BROTHER JONA-THAN. Brother Jonathan-There are some things I don't like in Socialism. Uncle Sam-Which, for instance, and to wit?

B. J.—The idea of compulsion.

U. S .- Is there any compulsion in Socialism?

B. J.-Certainly! their "co-operation" is not "voluntary" co-operation. I believe in voluntary, not compulsory, cooperation. Compulsory co-operation is

U. S .- Do you hold that what you are compelled" to do is under all circumstances "dictatorial?" B. J.-Certainly.

dictatorial. I'll none of it.

U. S .- Could you live with your head under water?

B. J.-Not I. U. S .- Could you move by flying!

B. J.-Nay. U. S.-You are "compelled" to live above water and to move with your feet, B. J.-Certainly. That is the result of man's physical condition. U. S .- You would not, then, consider it dictatorial that you must walk and can't fly, that you must breathe air and not do the fish act? B. J.-Of course not; there is no dietatorship in that. U. S .- You then admit that not all that you are "compelled" to do is "dic-

B. J.-No, not all. As I stated just now, what my physical or natural condition requires I must submit to, and don't think it a hardship. U. S .- And submit to gladly?

B. J.-Yes, gladly. U. S.—The first question you must then put to yourself in this instance 🚡 "Do social conditions give me any this: B. J .- Why should they not?

U. S.-We'll see. If you had the cho. to live under water you would change about like the hippopotamus? B. J.-Guess I would.

U. S.-Having no choice you stay, above water! B. J .- All I can.

U. S .- Now, then I shall show that social conditions are as compulsory upon man as physical ones. Can you live and do your work unless the shoemaker, the tailor, the bricklayer, the coal miner and so forth worked and supplied you with what you need?

B. J.-No, but neither could they live unless I and other working farmers supplied them with food. U. S.-Exactly. You are all dependent the one on the other?

U. S .- You are co-operating? B. J.-Y-e-s.

U. S .- You are COMPELLED to cooperate! B. J.-Hem! By Jericho! it's so!

U. S.—Do you feel under any dictatorship?

U. S .- The prevalent method of prothe tools of production established social conditions from which man can escape as little as he can escape from physical conditions. Capitalism-capitalism thrusts co-operation upon men; now that the means of production has become such that no one man can operate them alone and that it takes the whole of society to conduct the work of production and distribution, the co-operative feature of life has become most pronounced. Man has now no more choice whether he will co-operate or not than whether he will live under water or not.

torial from a capitalist paper, in which combined political action against Socialism by Republicans and Democrats is suggested. Such action would be welcome, as it would serve to make clear the capitalist character of the two old parties. It would be of estimable value on that account. But, for that very reason, such combination will not occted The capitalist class must have political divisions to fool the workers. Nay, it must rig up bogus Socialist parties and compel the "labor leaders" pay to use the labor unions for the same purpose. The day for combined capitalist politics has not vet arrived.

Third Installment of the "Rush to Roch-

To The Daily and Weekly People. Recently there has appeared in the columns of the People, articles which tended to throw light on the antics of he Avery-Goldstein combination of Boston, regarding the Kangaroos, whom Mrs Avery, who is the stuffed prophetess of this clique, says are "Atheists."

Recent Conduct.

"William R. Dyer, organizer of the netal trades federation of North America and business agent of Boston lodge 264. I. A. of M., has written a letter to the Massachusetts state committee of the socialist party, tendering his resignation as a member of the party. reasons for this action are opposition to the suppression of free speech, the attitude of the socialist party toward the trade union, and the following:

"The socialist press is trying to belittle the work of John Mitchell and the United Mine Workers' organization, whose work has done more for the interest of the workers of America than the socialist party in the whole time of its existence.

"The American labor union and the Western miners' federation, under the direction of socialists, declare the coal commission report to be 'an insult to the honor and dignity of organized labor.

"The miners' strike and my years of experience as business agent of the machinists' union have proved to me without a shadow of doubt, that the economic organization is the most effective place to educate and discipline the workmen that they may act intelligently and proceed with order to the conquest of sconomic justice.

"The trade union movement offers a field large enough for me to use my whole time and energy for some years to come and it is great enough to hold my utmost loyalty.

The Confucionists in Philadelphia. To The Daily and Weekly People .- Wal ter Thomas Mills' visit to Philadelphia about a week ago, and the consequent ele tion of the "Me Toos" prompts this let-ter. In the tail end of an address to the Friendship Liberal League, Mills stated that "He had yet to meet a man who wasn't a Socialist. There were," he said, "many men who thought they weren't So-

After Mills, with the "Socialist party" in tow, had left the meeting, a man took the door and professed that he was a Democrat been accused of being an opponent of So-cialism; but he argued clearly that, according to Mills, a man might vote for either didates and still be entitled to call himself

Evidently the "S. P." is reasoning simi arly that, since all men are Socialists, the adherents of the Republican and Democratic parties belong to the "S. P." The resulting big-headedness has caused that party to decline a challenge to debate issued to it by the Socialist Labor Party. At least, that is the most reasonable ex-planation of their refusal. It cannot be that they fear the result of the debate; Phoenix, Arisona, May 17.

The Manhattan Cocktail Method of Dis-

To The Daily and Weekly People. My article on the "Socialist" Party seems to have stirred up the animals, for I have received a long letter from one A. D. Wegman, East 98th street, N. The Contradictions of Capitalism. To The Daily and Weekly People.— The students of economics, on looking over the papers of the capitalist class, finds how it is that the working class can be so expounders of Capitalism. But, when we

Yet, in the same paper we find that great capitalist exploiter and "philanthropist," Andrew Carnegie, expounding his sentimental views in this manner: (If he means "Capital" in the proper sense of the term he is rich, labor being the sole produces of wealth, but he again means the capital ist.) But, according to the situation, as presented by the "Times," it looks, espec fally to one who studies the situation from worker's standpoint, as if there was bitter fight going on between the employ

As a consequence we find he has been a successful exploiter of it. He says the United States is the best country in the world for the workingman. and wonders why the English worker does not leave home and come to this country.

In order to answer this question, all that is necessary is to look on the side of the Times and see what Mr. J. J Hill, in expounding his views, in a speech in F. Louis says: "To move one ton of freight in England it costs $2.30; France and Germany it costs more than wo dollars, and in Siberia $1.70."

Now, it stands to reason, labor being the producer of all wealth, wages must be a part of the wealth, which the capitalist does not keep, so the American wage-slave must receive the lowest wages, when he cents. As the American capitalist makes the biggest profits, at the lowest wages, so we see our products selling cheaper than those of foreign countries.

Again, speaking of his big steamer, which has the biggest displacement of any vessel in the world, he says, "It takes on thousand three ton cars or a train seven miles long, to fill it." He then asks the question, "What was it built for? To carry the corn and wheat and cotton from the gentlemen from Kansas and Texas and Missouri." Again he asks the question, "Where did it go to?" He anwers, "It went across thee Pacific ocean, to feed and clothe one hundred millions of

When we think of the thousands mothers and children, going to work, ten and twelve hours a day, in the mills of crust of hard bread for a meal-not enough to feed a canary bird-with bare feet and rars to cover their bodies, we wonder what has become of the revolution ary spirit of the American people, and why strikes are not more numerous-yet we hear these capitalists talking about 'prosperity."

Again, Mr. Hill, speaking of his audience at the launching of his big steamer says. Those gentlemen did not assemble with a view to their own gain, but with a the unborn, to be the heritage of the whole ingman is driven by oppression from home and seeks to better his condition in another part of the country, he must walk or steal a ride on some box car or on s brake beam, while his "brother," the cap

The following letter was receive by the Pally People Finance Committee. It needs no further introduction: Mr. A. C. Kihn, Dear Comrade :- It is getting near the third birthday of the only English speaking daily Socialist paper in the world, and it it is not possible to clear it of debt in that time, I think the proposition to saddle the debt on the comrades (where it belongs) is a good one-it is the proper thing to do Now there are in the S. Call for General Vote.

To the Sections of the Socialist Labor

Greeting-Your N. E. C. received from Scotion Everett, Mass., the below proposition for a general vote to amend the party constitution as set forth. The propsition has the indorsement of the re-uired number of Sections called for by constitution, and it is herewith submitted to the party sections for such maments as may be offered. Under the provision of Art. XI., Sec. 1, at. smendments must be made within five weeks after date of this call, i. c., Satday, July 4, 1903:

PREAMELE AND PROPOSITION. Realizing that, in order to bring about the emancipation of the wage working class, the Socialist Labor Party must rest its principles and tactics on a sci tide and unshakable foundation, and. having this point is view, Section Ever-ett lays before you the following facts and saks you to give them your earnest consideration. The class-conscious memsers of the wage-working class have found bitter experience, as well as observaion, that, on the economic field, their chances against those of the capitalist class in the form of lockouts, strikes, boycotts and blacklisting are nil. We consinds from this, their weapons being

" seless, trade unions themselves are use-Therefore, it is a waste of time to attempt to check the development of capitalism. The purpose of trade unions to stay capitalist development, places them in the same category with reform movements. Therefore, in order to bring this matter to a referendum vote of the party, in acordance with Art. V., Sec. 7, part h, of the National Constitution. we ask your indersement of the follow-

"Whereas, an alliance with a reform organization manifestly ignores the revo-lutionary principles of the Socialist Labor Party, resulting in a loss of prestige and inevitably leading to the downfall of the party, and,

"Whereas, recent reports from this and other countries have shown the fallacy of alliances with trade unions.

"We therefore call upon you to indorse the following proposition to amend the

"That part K, of Sec. 7, Art. 5, and also Sec. 6, of Art. 7, be stricken out and the following section be inserted under article 2:

"There shall be no alliance between the Socialist Labor Party and the S. T. & L. A., or any other economic organ-

"Section Everett, S. L. P. "Louis H. Englehardt, Organizer, "141 Broadway, Everett, Mass."

The points presented, when submitted to a vote, would have to be put as

QUESTIONS TO BE VOTED UPON. 1. Shall Art. V, Set. 7, part k, be stricken ou?

(The said part k orders the N. E. C. to call for nominations for delegates to rep resent the S. L. P. at the National Conventions of the S. T. & L. A.)

2. Shall Art. 7, Sec. 6, be stricken out? (Said Section 6, Art. 7, provides that the National organization of the S. T. & L. A. may be represented in the National Convention of the S. L. P. by three fraternal delegates having the qualifications of regular party delegates.)

3. Shall there be added to Art. 11 a Section (Sec. 21) to read: "There shall be no alliance between the Socialist Labor Party and the S. T. & L. A., or any other economic organization"?

The following Sections have indorsed the above proposition: Minneapolis, Minn.; Essex County, N. J.; Patten, Pa.; Somerville, Mass.; Albany County, N. Y.; Lincoln, Neb.

COMRADES, TO WORK!

An Address by the New York State Executive Committee, Socialist Labor Party

Party, State of New York.

Comrades: The undersigned committee erewith calls on you to again take up the agitation for our principles and tac ties with renewed zeal and vigor. The season of outdoor agitation is here; strikes are prevalent on all sides; our enemies, the "Socialists," alies Social Democrate, are divided among theraselves, and an unprecedented crisis approaches everything is in our favor Work, and work alone, is required to advance the cause of class conscious Secialism. Will you perform it? We believe you will.

The S. L. P. has great cause for exultation over its splendid victory in this State last election, a victory which has been emphasized by economic events which have transpired since then.

At the last State election the S. L. P. took the stand that Labor is a merchandise whose price-wages-is determined by the law of supply and demand, and that, as a consquence, nothing short of the abolition of capitalism would free Lubbr from the effects of the economic laws that make it such. The traitorous conduct of the Mitchells and the Gomperses in uniting with the Civic Federation and the capitalist politicians, headed by Roosevelt, to betray the working class, especially the miners, was pointed out and condemned, as was also the cowardly, cringing attitude of the "Social ists," alias Social Democrats, who upheld the Mitchells and the Gomperses in their nefarious work through fear of offending these labor fakirs and losing the votes of the very workers whom they were helping to delude.

To-day we see that the stand of the S. L. P. was correct in every particular. We see Labor learning that it is a merchandise, whose wages depend on supply and demand and the cost of subsistence. hence the numerous strikes to take advantage of the demand for labor and to enforce demands for increased wages to meet the increased cost of living. day the betrayal of the workers by the Mitchells and the Gomperses, aided by the "Socialists," allas Social Democrats, is natent. The shameful and treacherous defeat of the miners stands out as a warning to all the workers-note the way the Italian exeavators in the New York snowny cited it, when refusing to return to work "pending arbitration," say-ing that, as they did not care to be tricked as the miners had been, they pre-ferred settlement first and returning to work after. Arbitration, together with the Mitchells, the Gomperses and the "Socialists," allas Social Democrats, stands condemned by events. The S. L. P., on the other hand, has been proven right in every particular.

Shall we let the fruits of this victory fall to the ground by standing idly by Shall we rather not go out on the high ways and byways, and in a systematic and thorough manner bring home to our fellow workers the correctness of our principles and factics, as proven by economic events! To work, comrades, to work! There is another matter which should add zest to our work. In the ranks of the "Socialist, alias Social Democratic earty, discord is the order of the day. the heterogeneous and crooked ele-ments making up that aggregation, guided as they are by falso and dishonest principles and tactics, are at logger-beads from ocean to ceean. Already the from of a certain aspirant for the pres-dency on the Democratic ticket, and the machinations of the so-called "radical element" of the Democratic party, with their "municipal" and "government planks, have fallen athwart their camps, to the great horror of their "offi-cial" press, which is pretending to combat both. As this aspirant and this element are aided by the leaders of the pure and simple trades uniquists, to whom are welded by their false and cowardly tactics, and whom they, consequently, can not logically oppose, the result is that the "Socialists," alies Social Democrats, are divided into fusion and antifusion factions, a condition that will grow more pronounced as the presidential campaign approaches, and that pessages for them an end similar to that which overtook the Populists, viz., absorption and annihilation by the "Democracy." When this occurs, hundreds of honest workers who have been following the will-o'-the-wisp of the "Social-ist" part, alias Social Democracy, will turn to the Socialist Labor Party, as Labor Party and Socialist Trade and La-many of them have already done, and bor Alliance are the only political and as many Populists did before them, when informed of its existence.

This, together with the approaching crisis, points to the fact that our propaganda can be conducted under economic and political circumstances more promising than those under which we have been working for some time. We must begin now, however, if we would reap the results in due time. Again we say, then, To work, comrades, to work!

To work, comrades, to work! Let this be our slogan. Let us work persistently and systematically. First held outdoor meetings. When advisable go into adjoining districts and towns where our party is not so well known. Take care, at outdoor meetings, to ask for names and addresses of sympathizers and those sufficiently interested to desire to learn more about our organization. Visit these persons on occasions where you have no meetings and induce them to join our y. Also see to it that at the out-meetings party literature is sold and subscribers are secured for the Daily, Weekly and Monthly People. Make it a point to get your hearers to purchase rather than induce them to accept pam-

To the Sections of the Socialist Labor | this feature of our agitation great attention, for many readers for our party literature and party press mean a good field for party work. If you wish to give away anything, give away leaflets. Make a specialty of "The Difference, or the S. D. P. vs. the S. L. P." and "The Attitude of the S. L. P. Towards Trades

If there is a strike is your city, visit scene of it. Hold or address strikers meetings, if you can. If you can not, distribute copies of our party organs and secure subscriptions for them.

Also sell our literature. "What Moans This Strike!" is especially suited for this purpose. Strikes offer agitational opportunities that should not be neglected. When you have no open air meetings, make a house-to-house canvass for the party press. Visit enrolled voters especially, and induce them to subscribe for our party organs. Many other schemes may be devised, as local conditions suggest and demand. What we need, though, is to make a start where it has not already been done. Comrades, let us begin at once, all together. Let us subdivide the labor systematically and make a record that will be at once the model and the envy of all the other States. As was said before, everything is in our favor. Work alone is required and we will and must perform it. All together! To work, comrades, to work! Up with the S. L. P.! On with the Social Revolution!

Yours fraternally, THE NEW YORK STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Harvey A. Santee, Secretary. 2-6 New Reade street, N. Y. City.

The Workingmen's Mutual Sick and Benevolent Society held its regular meeting at 501 East Eighty-second street on Wednesday, May 20. All officers except the vice president were present, he coming after the meeting was in progress.

After the reading of the minutes of previous meeting some bills were ordered paid and various committees made their reports.

Three candidates were proposed.

On motion it was decided to make the next meeting, to be held on Wednesday, June 3, a special meeting, when the constitution will be finally adopted, and the question of members-at-large will be discussed.

Upon motion the following, together with the preamble of the organization, were ordered printed in The Daily, Weekly and Monthly People:

"There has long been felt the necessity among the members and sympathizers of the Socialist Labor Party for a mutual sick and benevolent organization. Although recognizing the fact that under the present system of the private ownership of the means of production, the condition of the wage-working class cannot be permanently improved, and that under the present profit system the members of the wage-working class are ever subject to enforced idleness, or while at work to conditions which endanger their health and in consequence thereof become sick and unable to support themselves and their families, we, at such times also recognize the necessity of an organization which will provide the actual necessities to workingmen who are the victims of such unfortunate conditions.

"Such an organization is the newly organized W. M. S. & B. S. and we therefore call upon those workingmen who feel the necessity for an organization of this kind to come forward and enroll themselves as members of the Workingmen's Mutual Sick and Benevolent So-PREAMBLE OF THE W. M. S. & B. S. "We, the founders of the W. M. S. & B. A., believe that all men are born equal, and that every inhabitant of this country is entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

"We further believe that under the present capitalist system of private ownership of the land and the means of production, the wage working class (by far the majority of the people) are deprived of those natural rights. "We are convinced that the Socialist

Labor Party and Socialist Trade and Laeconomic organizations whose aims and objects are to abolish the system of private ownership of the land and the means of production, and establish in its stead the Socialist Republic, the co-operative commonwealth, when there will be equal opportunities to all; no one will be de-prived of the fruit of his labor, and all may enjoy life, liberty and happiness.

"Therefore, we, the founders of this organization, do solemnly pledge our carnest and sincere support, morally and financially, to the best of our ability, to both above named organizations, to the exclusion of all other political and economic organizations,"

The Silver Cross:

or The Carpenter of Nazareth

A Translation from the French of Eugene Sue, at 35 CENTS A VOLUME HERETOFORE RETAILING AT SO CENTS

The plain but thrilling story, told in a masterly manner by the great French author, gets hold of the reader as soon as he starts to read it. Stripped of the ( cen garb, Jesus appears before us the type of the earnest, honest, radical leader of the people-a figure which history has reproduced, with slight variations, in every cruical period in the progress of mankind, when the older order of things had reaches its climax and was about to give way to the new. Aside from being a story of most absorbing interest, with dramatic incidents second to none, the book gives that noble character to the teachings of the Carpenter of Nazareth which most of our generationwhether Christian, Jew or Freethinker-have failed to perceive through the mass of Church legend which attaches to the story of Jesus. As a picture of society and the social classes of that epoch, with the class struggle raging within it, this story will throw a strong light on our conditions of to-day.
